THE odorous Snitch lawyer TOM CAMPBELL disgraced the room by appearing in the Court of Appeals while the Jim Howard case was being argued Thursday; but the skunk hadn't a word to say.

THE Lexington Herald of yesterday appeared in "tabloid" form, according to the Harnsworth idea. "THE LEDGER" has always maintained that a small paper, well edited, with its news matter "short, sharp and decisive," is much preferable to the "blanket" sheet with six-line-pica scareheads and an exposition of the space-writer's capacity. But, take it in any form, The Herald is easily one of the best and ablest papers in the state.

THE Times-Star thinks that American commercial supremacy is now an established fact. The German Government has just placed with a Philadelphia firm an order for 2,400 tons of sauer kraut to be delivered to the German forces in China. It will require eight freight cars to transport this load to Frisco for shipment. With American shipping coal to Newcastle, selling steel in Sheffield and selling sauer kraut to Germany there can be no question as to where we stand among the Nations.

EDITOR GREEN KELLER of The Carlisle Mercury hasn't a very exalted opinion of Mayor WEAVER of Louisville. Hear him—

"Mayor WEAVER of Louisville is the biggest humbug of the age, and his last grandstand play about gambling in his city demonstrates that he is a fraud and a shyster. The people of Louisville have taken his money and have ordered his coffin. He is the man who permitted his police to break up the Democratic primary in his city and later to overrule the Music Hall Convention and steal nominations—thus bringing about the trouble in the Democratic party, and finally the murder of Senator GOODEL. He is the guilty man."

THE Independent says there is a big boom at Ashland. Guests at the hotels are obliged to sleep spoon-fash-

One man won't take a paper because it doesn't print the news. Another man stops taking it because it does print the news. Funny world, isn't it?

ALLEGED SHORTAGE.

Indictment Against Cashier Luther R. Porter, Charged With Embezzeling Bank Funds.

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 19.—The grand jury of this county late Friday afternoon, after an all day investigation of the alleged shortage of Luther R. Porter, cashier of the Warren Deposit, bank, recommended a indictment against him charging him with embezzlement. The sum of his alleged misappropriation is placed at $49,055.02. Mr. Porter did not wait for a bench warrant to be issued, but accompanied by his brother-in-law, Rev. J. S. Gandy, his brother-in-law, Mr. John Gandy, walked into open court where his attorneys and bondsmen had preceded him. All formalities were waived and Mr. Porter executed bond in the sum of $5,000. The case will be tried at the April term of the criminal court.

Mr. Porter gave the following signed statement: "So far as being short in my accounts with the Warren Deposit bank, I most emphatically deny the charge. I consider that a very great injustice has been done me and my family. At the present time my facts will be clearly demonstrated. I only ask my friends to suspend judgment until the facts are brought out."

(Signed) L. R. PORTER

MAY BE LYNCHED.

Arson Charged Against John A. Walton, Who Led the Column at San Juan Hill.

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 19.—John A. Walton, of Simpson county, who has been charged with the commission of being the first soldier at the summit of San Juan Hill, during the memorable battle, has been arrested and placed in jail at Scottsville on the charge of arson. A few nights ago the residence of Joe Dotson was fired, and it is believed that Walton was the criminal.

Walton married a daughter of John Dotson some time ago, and Tuesday his wife sued for divorce, and this is believed by the officials to be the motive for the burning of his father-in-law's residence. It is the opinion of the people that Walton thought his wife and mother-in-law were at home alone, and it was his desire to burn them alive, the roof having been saturated with coal oil.

There is talk of mobbing Walton, and the latest news received here is that unless he is taken to another home his body will be hanging from a limb soon.

Portion of Case Discovered.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 19.—Judge Buckley, in the city court Friday, dismissed the poolroom operators who were arrested by the police on Monday. The judge held that the police had no right to raid the place without a warrant. He said that pool rooms are not places of public assembly, the Kentucky laws, and that the rooms can only be raided after they have been shown to be disorderly houses and order of eviction has been issued.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

Two Armed Men Entered a New York Restaurant, But Got Nothing For Their Pains.

New York, Jan. 19.—Two robbers armed with revolvers entered Mardon's restaurant and confectionery, near the Fifth Avenue hotel, just as the place was being closed at midnight, and ordered the cashier to give up his money.

The cashier had several hundred dollars on the desk before him, and it is supposed that he did not move quickly enough to satisfy the robbers, for one of the men discharged his revolver. The shot struck a boy standing near. The police were notified. The robbers fled. One turned into 23rd street and the police were notified. The other ran to Madison square, where he was captured by a policeman. He said he was Edward Burgess, a steam fitter.

QUESTION OF ETIQUETTE.

As to the Whether the Hat Should Be Removed in a Public Elevator.

In the elevators in one of the large office buildings of this city, says the Washington Times, there is a hand-painted sign which reads as follows:

"This is a public elevator. Gentlemen are not required to remove their hats."

What's common sense, if it is abrupt, is a well-known bad habit and globe trotter, screwing his monocle more tightly in his eye as he reads the words.

"It is a mistaken chivalry and false sense of politeness which will cause trouble. Not only were there severe pains in my hands but I was in a public place such as an elevator in a public or business building, a street car, railroad car, ferry boat, railroad station, omnibus or other public vehicle or place, as it is an evidence of lack of metropolitan or cosmopolitan culture to be seen in the presence of ladies, so some of my over polite brothers think they must uncover in public. A hotel is in effect a dwelling place, and when abroad to remove the hat in the presence of ladies and gentlemen, and to cover the head in public places or in business.

"To most men an elevator is an affair whether it is in a hotel or a courthouse. In this country it is known as an custom in this country and abroad to remove the hat in the presence of ladies, so some of my over polite brothers think they must uncover in public. A hotel is in effect a dwelling place, and when abroad to remove the hat in the presence of ladies and gentlemen, and to cover the head in public places or in business.

"None of the deference due to the other sex is lost by the observance of rules to fit the occasion. Over politeness and undue servility are as ill-bred as an utter absence of courtesy.

OATHS ARE SELDOM HEARD.

Profanity Is Becoming Less Common—Even in Small Villages.

"I was reading the other day," said a New York lawyer, "of a visit paid by a Boston man to a little village in Vermont. He declared that all he had heard of the people there was inaccuracy, in their conversation as well as with them profanity had become instinctive, commonplace and even necessary. It had through long use lost all its force and emphasis; had become an inseparable part of everyday language and speech."

"I believe this to be true. The little villages I have visited, both in New York and the west, do more swearing to the inhabitant, ten times over, than you will hear in the city of New York."

"To put an end to the elimination of profanity from the daily conversation is a matter of culture rather than of religion. Men cease to swear than from gentlemanly instincts, just as they avoid other forms of vulgarity.

I attend a club regularly where several men of all lines of trade and of the professions, men who smoke and drink their wines and liquors with reasonable bounds. But they don't swear. You will not hear one oath said, and the words that are said are part of a story, that is told and dropped in for picturesque emphasis."

"The same thing holds true of the men I meet in other walks of life. You don't hear much of it from the teamsters and other workers upon the streets. I have heard more oaths from one country boy in one summer than from all the men I have met in New York for the past ten years."

CANTON SLIPPERS.

Advantages of Chinese Woman's Footwear Made of Grass and Bamboo.

For house wear, especially during warm weather, no slippers can be compared with those which are made of grass or split bamboo, and the sole is made of dried palm leaves, sewed together with strong twine. There is no heel-piece, and the sole is flat. For those with a sensitive estate, an insole or lining of cotton. Cotton fibers are so strong they can be easily secured. They are strong and durable, and retain both their shape and color. A pair can be worn a year, says the New York Post.

What they cost in the beginning in China is $1.50, but in America in the past two years a large number have appeared in the New York market which promises to become very well liked. It is similar to the Chinese shoe in having a very thick sole, made of palm leaves, which are sewed on the sides with white cloth. The heel is made of white cloth, either white or colored, and embroidered with silk floss or with silver and gold threads. They are a trifle awkward at first, on account of the thick sole, but are soon made comfortable, and so well fitted to the feet, that they are almost as good as any other kind. The price depends upon the embroidery, and ranges from 75 cents to two and three dollars.

VICTORIA VERY ILL.

The Royal Physicians Are in Almost Hourly Attendance on the British Queen.

OFFICIALS DENY THAT IT IS SERIOUS.

The Announcement of Her Indisposition Has Caused a Shock to the Whole Country.

The Prince of Wales Can Not Act For the Queen Without the Authority of Parliament, Which Is Not in Session.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 19.—It is reported that Sir James Reid and Francis Laking, the royal physicians, are in almost hourly attendance on the queen. Her trip to the south of France has been abandoned. Officials at Osborne house deny that the queen is seriously ill.

London, Jan. 19.—Although it is fully understood that there is no cause for alarm beyond what would naturally be felt at the indisposition of any of the queen's aged and infirm attendants here, Friday evening has caused a shock to the country, the effect of which it would be difficult to exaggerate. Her majesty's absolute freedom from illness during the longest reign in English history has led her people to regard her almost as more than mortal, and the mere novelty of having to face the possibility of a regency alone suffices to create unnecessary apprehension.

Still Able to Sign Documents.

It is necessary to go back to a date prior to 1820 for a similar situation.

QUEEN VICTORIA.
Since that time there has never been an interruption of the smooth running of the constitutional machine. No one, not even the prince of Wales, can act for the queen without the authority of parliament, and, as no steps have been taken to summon parliament, it may be taken for granted that her majesty's physicians have only adopted measures of prevention and that it is still able to sign any absolutely imperative documents, though relieved of the worries of routine affairs.

Comment of London Papers.
All the morning papers comment upon the unlooked-for possibilities of the situation, but they do not regard it as alarming. The Daily News says: "We fear it can not be doubted that the queen is in a very precarious condition, but it seems impossible to believe that she should be ill. We must hope and trust that a short period of repose will restore her strength of body and mind. The fact that the prince of Wales attended the banquet to Lord Roberts given by the Union Club may serve to dispel any alarming idea of the case, though the queen's age must make any illness the cause of anxiety."

Her Long Reign.

The Graphic, commenting upon the queen's "untiring self-sacrifice," says: "We hope it is only a passing warning to her to spare herself in the future."

The Times, which takes a similar view, remarks that it is only since Tuesday that the queen has abandoned here daily drives," and points out that Saturday she attains an age one day greater than that of George III, who, having not only reigned the longest, but also lived the longest of British sovereigns. Proceeding to dilate upon the immense changes and progress during the queen's reign, and upon the "unexampled manner in which she has won her way into the affection of her people," the Times adds: "There can be no doubt whatever that the oldest British sovereign is also the best loved."

PEACE AT CORBIN.

Shotwell's and Their Followers Arrested, and a Threatened Federal War is Averted.

Corbin, Ky., Jan. 19.—The presence of a large Gatlin gun stationed at a fort on the hill above the town, and soldiers scattered about over the town and its immediate vicinity had a quieting effect on the blood-thirsty citizens of this place Friday, and Friday night the troops, being no longer needed, were withdrawn. On Saturday morning the citizens awoke Friday morning they found a Gatlin gun covering all important points of the town and the soldiers patrolling the streets. There was no place for the militiamen to take shelter, and they consequently went to work to patch up the trouble without delay.

Shotwell's Men Arrested.

Five of the sheriff's boys, Charles, James and Robert, sons of the murdered man, and their allies, Wes and Richard Meltingen, were placed under arrest. Then the police judge was asked to investigate the dynamiting of the White House and the killing of George W. Stone, Sen. P. B. Judson, Willard, acting senator, and several other men, and had before him several witnesses, including Roach White, proprietor of the store which was dynamited and in which he and Bill White were staying, his brother, who was killed in the explosion, and Sullivan (Miss.). The Massachusetts senator who was detained at his home by illness, was paired against the bill with Senator Spooner (Wis.).

Numerous Amendments.

While the opposition to it at all stages was vigorous, it never was bitter. Numerous amendments were introduced, and the final vote in the committee was sustained, and the measure, with the exception of the elimination of the censure clause, is not widely different from that reported to the Senate.

Other Measures Passed.

The following bills were passed: Authorizing the postmaster general to lease premises for the use of the rural free delivery division of the post office department; extending the time for filing returns of taxes January 25, 1902, and the completion of January 28, 1904, of a bridge across the Missouri river at Oacoma, S. D.; authorizing the appointment of J. A. Lutton to a captaincy of infantry in the United States army.

ACTIVE RECRUITING

It is in Progress in All the Principal Cities—Entertainments Are for Three Years.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Active recruiting for the army is in progress in all the principal cities of the country. The authorized strength of the regular army at present is 65,000 men, and it is the intention to maintain it at that strength until the discharge of the 32,000 volunteers on June 30, next. All enlistments are for three years, and the number of recruits averages about 2,000 a month. Owing to the delay in action on the army bill, the impression prevails in the country that it will be impossible to discharge all the volunteers in time to permit their discharge here by June 30. In that case it will be necessary to discharge a number of them in the Philippines on that date, in order to keep them there until replaced by regular troops from the United States. The emperor would not consent to this, however, and the emperor will keep the Philippine army up to the limit of 40,000 men, regarded as essential to the enforcement of the president's policy, while the proposed reorganization of the army is in progress. It is said that the war department is determined that while it is set down that all the volunteers will be discharged here by June 30, the course of events in the near future will determine whether the discharges shall take place in the Philippines or in the United States. Every effort will be made to get as many of them home as possible before their discharge.

THE LUNCHEON.

IN THE GORGEOUS WHITE HALL TO OVER 1,200 PERSONS—Foreign Ambassadors and Ministers Were Present.

Berlin, Jan. 19.—Emperor William unseated the visiting princes, the members of the royal family, and the emperor in honor of the bicentenary of the Prussian empire. His majesty drank the health of the newly created knights and carried on a lively conversation with those sitting near him. The emperor repeatedly pledged the ambassadors.

Mr. White, when delivering President Roosevelt's speech to the emperor, emphasized the fact that it was Bismarck who first recognized the independence of the United States, and also that the first commercial treaty negotiated by the United States was made with Prussia. He mentioned appreciatively the emperor's liberal views on opening her universities and technical schools to foreigners.

Emperor William, who replied pleasantly, pointed out that nations of German blood must hold together in the great controversies of the world.

THE LUNCHEON.

The luncheon began at 2 o'clock and lasted until 4 p.m. In the gorgous white hall and over 1,200 persons were present. The chief table was in the form of a hollow square, and there were tables to the right and in the galleries. The emperor made only a few remarks, proposing the health of the members of the Prussian orders.

This was the first time foreign ambassadors and ministers had attended an audience, a function given every January 18 for the members of the Prussian orders, the reason being that this year the ordenfest coincided with the bicentenary celebration.

THE BILL OF Fare.

The bill of fare was rather simple, including broth, sole, pot roast with gravy, ham, baked ham, boiled lamb, capon, fruit, salad, orange juice, cheese, dessert and exquisite wines from the royal cellars. During the luncheon musical selections from Meyerbeer, Weber, Handel, Wagner and Strauss were played. Hundreds of waiters were specially detailed to assist outside, bringing the dishes to the tables.

The imperial chancellor, Count von Buelow, sat opposite the emperor.

On the chancellor's right were the ambassadors of Italy, Russia and France and the United States, his left was the ambassador of Austria, Britain, Turkey and Spain.

The city was brilliantly illuminated.

Prince Ferdinand Henry of Orange.

The kaiser ordered the German minister to The Netherlands, Count Von Puntelius, to deposit in Delft, South Holland, upon the tomb of Prince Frederick Henry of Orange, father of William III, a golden lion rampant showing the Prussian colors and bearing the inscription "In Memory of the Grandfather of the First Prussian King."

Fifteen new peers for the Prussian hereditary, or houses of lords, were appointed by the emperor, the list including Dr. Dreysen and Prof. Flesher, of the Charlottenburg technical high school, as well as a number of mayors.
